

Student Life

As a Greystone student, you are also a Schreiner student. The first thing you should notice is that Greystone is part of a “university” campus! As a member of the Schreiner campus community, you will see that there are many different activities, clubs and organizations to keep you occupied when you are not studying, going to class, working out or on the athletic field. As a Greystone student, you have complete access to all university programs and facilities on the campus.

As a college student, you no longer live at home and are therefore responsible for yourself. Everything that comes to you from this point on will be because of your efforts. Fortunately, you will quickly make friends who will assist you in your efforts to “survive” on your own away from home. One of the major realizations for a Schreiner student living on campus is that you are never alone unless you choose to be. For you to survive and succeed in this challenging academic, physical and emotional venture, you will need the help and support of friends who share similar goals and ambitions as yourself. The sooner you learn to become part of the Greystone team and Schreiner community, the sooner you will begin the transition from a high school student to a college freshman.

The purpose of Schreiner University is to provide a rigorous college-level education and to assist students as they grow into mature and responsible members of the community. The Schreiner experience presupposes that healthy growth involves the whole person, claiming all the intellectual, social, physical and spiritual dimensions of each student’s life. Campus activities and programming promote student initiative by providing opportunities for the integration of these dimensions in the development of a well-rounded lifestyle.

Life On campus

Schreiner has 33 student groups and organizations, including Greek fraternities and sororities, service clubs, interest clubs, honor societies, religion-affiliated groups, a student newspaper, a literary magazine and, of course, student government.

There are also organized campus events and activities, including theatre productions, Spring Fling, monthly Texas Music Coffeehouses, live musical performances, speaker series, athletic events, intramurals, student group meetings, pool tournaments, movie nights, dinners, dances, and personal fitness and martial arts classes.

Most Schreiner students live on campus, either in the residence halls or in on-campus apartments. Wherever you live, you will find a unique environment with its own personality that reflects the individual characteristics of its residents.

Residence Hall Living

As a Greystone student, you will live in the L.A. Schreiner Residence Hall on campus. Each room unit in the residence hall consists of two adjoining suites (2 students per suite) and share a single main entrance and bathroom. Rooms are air-conditioned and have telephone and cable television service. Room furnishings include desks, single beds, dressers, chairs and closet facilities. Most mattresses are extra-long twin. All campus living areas have wireless access to the campus Intranet and Internet services. Wireless NICs are available on loan through the University.

To provide oversight and to act as a provider of “adult supervision”, residence halls are staffed with a Resident Director (RD) and at least one Resident Assistant (RA). The RD is a Schreiner faculty or staff member and lives in the residence hall. The RA is a junior, senior or sophomore at Schreiner and has received training to support the RD. The RA also lives in a room in the residence hall. The RD and RA provide oversight for students within the residence hall and are employed by Schreiner University. Additionally, to provide additional oversight in L.A. Schreiner Residence Hall, the office of the Greystone director occupies one of the suites.

Residency Requirements

Schreiner University and Greystone believe on-campus living contributes to your overall education. All full-time first, second and third year students are required to live on campus. As a full-time student, you are required to provide proof of current health and accident insurance coverage.

The University reserves the right to enter and inspect all campus housing to ensure student health and safety, and to provide maintenance services. All Greystone students must complete a Housing Agreement and are expected to follow the residency rules and regulations as set out in the Student Handbook or as amended by the Schreiner Dean of Students.

In addition, antennas and other cords/cables may not be fastened to the outside of the building or protrude from windows in any way.

Escort Policy

The University's escort policy strives to provide safety and privacy for those living in on-campus housing. In single gender floors/areas of residence halls, any person who is not a member of the Schreiner University community (faculty, staff, and students) or any member who is of the opposite gender than designated for that area must be escorted by a member of the residence hall community who is of the same gender designated by the area. In mixed gender housing facilities, a member of the community must escort any person who is not a member of the Schreiner University community. Exceptions to this are those University staff members who are entering the facility for purposes of maintenance, cleaning, security, or persons who have secured written permission from a University official.

Furniture

All room, apartment and common area furnishings must stay in designated areas. You may arrange movable furniture however you would like, but do not remove room or apartment furniture or bring common area furniture into your room.

Guests

A guest is defined as someone who is not a resident of the room that she/he is visiting. Students are responsible for their guests' behavior and should escort them when in common areas. Violations of residence hall policy by a visitor may result in loss of visitation privileges, as well as possible disciplinary action against the student host. Residents may have guests of the same gender in their rooms overnight, but they must notify their RA. Overnight guests are permitted to stay no more than three nights during a one-month period. A student's right to have a guest is, in all cases, superseded by the roommate's right to uninterrupted use of the room.

Porches/Balconies

If students wish to have furniture on the porch or balcony, it must be of the type intended to be outside. This includes lawn furniture, patio tables, and camping chairs. Upholstered furniture, such as couches and stuffed chairs, is not acceptable. Porch and balcony lights are not to be tampered with by residents. Removing, unscrewing or replacing bulbs is not permitted and may result in a fine. If you notice a bulb has burnt out, please report it to your RA or RD.

Quiet Hours

Quiet hours guidelines are established in order to respect the rights of others and to maintain an atmosphere conducive to academic success. These are times when noise must be kept to a low level and must be contained within a student's individual room. Quiet hours are from 10:00 pm to 10:00 am Sunday through Thursday and midnight to 10:00 am on Friday and Saturday.

Visitation

Visitation hours for Trull, Flato and L.A. Schreiner are from 10:00am - 1:00am Sunday through Thursday and 10:00am - 2:00am Friday and Saturday. Pecan Grove residents have 24-hour visitation. Please note that in all cases, co-habitation is prohibited. The guest and escort policies apply regardless of visitation hours.

Student Policies

Part of the Greystone experience requires that each student leave home and live on the Schreiner campus. Living away from home forces each student to become completely responsible for their behavior and actions and will, therefore be held accountable for their behavior and actions. So long as students abide by the guidelines and policies that govern the Schreiner community, students will realize they have many freedoms and can participate in all campus programs and activities. As a Greystone student, you are expected to set the example for proper behavior and are expected to learn, study, work, play and live within the Schreiner governing framework.

Read these Schreiner University policies carefully as they apply to every Greystone student as well as her or his guests. If you have any questions about policies, please do not hesitate to contact a Residence Life staff member.

Alcohol and Drugs

Only students who are 21 years of age and older may responsibly consume alcohol in authorized locations. University policy prohibits the use of illegal drugs or controlled substances.

Bicycles

Bicycles may be stored outside each hall secured to a bike rack or in your room. Installation of bike hooks is considered damage to the room and is not permitted. Have identification numbers engraved on your bike.

Candles/Incense

Due to local and state fire codes, open flame/ember burning (incense & candles of any type, including those in glass chimneys or potpourri) is prohibited in campus housing.

Firearms, Explosives, and Other Weapons

Firearms (including paintball, pellet, BB, and dart guns), martial arts weapons, knives (other than pocket knives), explosives (including fireworks), hazardous chemicals or any other item used or displayed in a threatening manner may not be brought to or kept on campus. Discharge of a firearm on campus may result in immediate suspension. Those students who wish to bring hunting firearms to the university must store them with Campus Security.

Fire Safety Equipment

When a fire alarm sounds, all persons are required by law to evacuate the building. Students should familiarize themselves with the location of the exit nearest their room. Fire alarms, fire hoses, smoke detectors, and fire extinguishers are for emergency use only. Do not tamper with fire safety equipment in your room or in the living area.

Group Billing

When damages, excessive trash, theft of common area furniture, or vandalism occur in the residential living area, and the person(s) responsible cannot be identified, the following guidelines will be followed: The situation will be reported to the members of the hall, floor, or building. This group will have 72 hours from the time of notification to identify the responsible person(s). If the person(s) responsible can be identified, they will be personally charged for the costs incurred. If no person(s) can be identified, then the residents of the defined living unit (hall, floor, or building) will split the costs incurred equally. No charge will be less than $5.00 per resident.

Locked Out of Your Room

Students should exercise caution with their space and belongings. Doors should be locked, not propped, and keys carried with students at all times. If you are locked out of your room during the "on-duty" period (7pm to 7am), contact the RA on duty. If you are locked out during the day, try to find any residence life staff member of that area or contact Campus Security. Staff will not let anyone into any room other than their own, regardless of reason. Do not ask them to open someone else's room.

Musical Instruments

Stereos, radios and musical instruments that do not disturb others may be played in the residential living areas. The volume of the music should not disturb other students, and quiet hours must be observed. Failure to comply will result in the removal and storage of the equipment or instrument for the remainder of the academic year.

Noise

Every student has the right to sleep and study without noise interference. Excessive noise is an infringement on your rights and is unacceptable. While it is the responsibility of everyone to control noise, it is also the responsibility of those affected by the noise to ask the offending person or people to be quieter. If this approach does not succeed, contact an RA or RD in your building. The staff member will ensure that you have tried to resolve the issue yourself before she/he addressed the issue.

Please remember that Courtesy Hours are in effect 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Noise that is disturbing to others at any time of day or night is inappropriate.

Parties and Gatherings

Small parties or gatherings are allowed in campus housing under the following guidelines: A gathering should not exceed eight (8) people in a single or double or twelve (12) people in a Pecan Grove unit. Common areas may be reserved through the RD for any gathering exceeding these limits. Persons having parties/gatherings are responsible for their guests' behavior. All use of alcohol at parties/gatherings comes under the guidelines of the Alcohol Policy.

Pets

No pets are permitted in student housing. The only exception is fish in an aquarium no larger than 10 gallons. Students are responsible for the care of fish over vacations and holidays. Any other pet found in a student residence hall room will result in a minimum of immediate removal of the animal(s) and $100 fine per animal. Additional judicial sanctions may possibly be imposed.

Posting

Public or common area bulletin boards and other "tackable" surfaces are for university notices and activities. Commercial or obscene material may not be posted in public or common areas. Items that are improperly posted will be removed.

Roofs and Fire Escapes

Roofs are off-limits at all times for safety reasons. Fire escapes are off-limits unless fire is preventing an escape from the building.

Room Entry

The university recognizes residents' right to privacy but maintains the right for its authorized personnel to enter residents' premises for the following reasons: (1) without notice in an emergency involving danger to life or property; (2) upon notice for the purpose of health and safety inspections; (3) for routine and immediate maintenance; (4) without notice when a condition is observed that is prohibited by University or Residence Life regulations; and (5) when it is reasonably suspected that a Resident is using the assigned space in a manner contrary to the provisions of University or Residence Life policies.

Routine maintenance/safety inspections of the rooms/units will be conducted periodically. Students will be given an advance written notice of exact date(s) whenever possible.

Sales and Solicitation

The Director of Residence Life and the Resident Director of the area must give advance approval for all sales, solicitation, canvassing, and product or service exhibits in campus housing. All persons on university property may be required to identify themselves to university officials. If you encounter solicitors or suspicious behavior, call a Residence Life staff member or Campus Security immediately.

Smoke Detectors

All rental dwellings must be equipped with operable smoke detectors. Each room shall contain one regularly inspected smoke detector. Do not tamper with smoke detectors. Judicial action may be taken for tampering with fire safety equipment.

Smoking

No smoking is permitted anywhere in campus housing including student rooms and apartments. Ashtrays are available outside main entrances of many buildings on campus, so please extinguish cigarette butts in appropriate receptacles. Cigarette butts found in/around the grounds of campus housing is considered trash.

Sodexo Dishes

The removal of plates, cups, bowls, and/or utensils from the cafeteria is prohibited. You may be fined for having cafeteria dishes outside of the cafeteria. Sodexo will make disposable utensils and plates available to individual students who are sick or have commitments that do not allow them to eat in the cafeteria. Dishes taken out of the cafeteria not only cause an increase in the cost of room and board, but also create health hazards and are an eyesore for residents and visitors alike.

Sports in Halls or Rooms

Throwing, kicking, or bouncing objects (Frisbee, soccer balls, basketballs, darts, etc.) or excessive physical activity without throwing objects (running, wrestling) is prohibited in the residence halls, study lounges, hallways, and rooms. Do not roller blade or ride your bike in the hall. Dartboards and darts are not permitted in student housing. In Pecan Grove, such activity must take place in the quad and away from buildings.

Thefts, Valuables, Insurance

Always lock your room door when you leave the room. University staff will assist residents who are locked out of their room. They will not allow entry to a room not assigned to a student. Schreiner University does not carry insurance on personal possessions of students. Residents who own valuables should lock them in a safe place or leave them at home. It is recommended that Schreiner residents insure their personal property either by their parents' homeowner's insurance policy or by purchasing personal property insurance. Schreiner University does not assume responsibility for lost, damaged, or destroyed personal property. Always keep the doors and windows to your room locked. Promptly report any unusual or suspicious behavior, doors or windows not locking properly, or lost or stolen keys to your Resident Assistant or Resident Director. Students are encouraged to immediately report all losses and thefts, regardless of size or value, to Residence Life staff and to Campus Security.

Trash/Litter

Students are responsible for disposing of their trash in dumpsters or designated trash receptacles placed around residential areas. Trash may not sit outside of rooms or units, on balconies, or on porches. Trash sitting outside may result in residents being fined or sanctioned. Litter or trash around a living area (ex: quad, parking lot, porches, balconies, laundry room, common areas) may initiate the group billing process.

Vacation Periods

During official university vacations, the residence halls will be closed and Pecan Grove will remain open. The meal plans will not operate during university vacations. Please refer to the Housing Agreement for details regarding vacation periods.

Windows and Screens

Ejecting objects from windows or ledges is extremely hazardous and is therefore prohibited. Students should also exercise extreme care around the halls/windows when participating in sports/activities such as football, Frisbee, soccer, etc. to not cause damage to property. Signs, posters, aluminum foil or other materials or objects may not be posted in windows. Screens must remain on windows at all times. If screens are found removed from windows, in disrepair (ex: bent, broken, or torn), or missing completely, residents of the room will be subject to fine and other disciplinary sanction.

Residency Requirements

All full-time students must live in the on-campus residence facilities.

The Residence Life Team

When you move into campus housing, you get much more than a space in which to keep your stuff. You also get a system of people working for and with you:

Resident Assistant (RA)

Your RA is a full time student in a leadership position. An RA's primary responsibility is to help build community and respect, and to maintain university standards. The RA is responsible for providing programs and activities to challenge and enhance your college experience. She or he is also available to listen when you need a friendly ear, to help you with facilities needs, or to direct you to campus resources.

Undergraduate Assistant (UA)

The UA is an experienced RA who holds a position of additional responsibility in campus housing. She/He performs all duties of a Resident Assistant and serves on the Residence Life Senior Staff Team.

Assistant Resident Director (ARD)

The Assistant RD is a part-time professional staff member who lives in an apartment in one of the larger living areas. This person helps the Resident Director in all functions of running a living area.

Resident Director (RD)

Your RD is a part-time professional staff member who lives in an apartment in the living area year round. This person is responsible for the entire area including supervision and training of staff, overseeing programming, managing hall facilities, counseling, and promoting respectful conduct.

Director of Residence Life and Judicial Affairs

The Director is responsible for all aspects of residence life, housing, judicial affairs and Greek life. This person supports all Residence Life functions such as programming, staff selection and training and development of community standards. The Director also manages housing and facilities issues including new student housing placement, check-in and checkout, room changes, the housing lottery, meal plans and billing. As the central judicial officer, the student judicial process is also the Director's responsibility.

Dress Code

Greystone students are not governed by a formal dress code or required to wear uniforms – Greystone is not a “military” style institution. As such, students will dress appropriately given their status as representatives of Schreiner University, Greystone and most importantly, as future representatives of an academy.

What you wear and how you present yourself to others makes a statement about the person you are or hope to become. It is recommended that students dress for the weather, class and use common sense regarding fashion or fads.

Honor Code

The Greystone Honor code is embodied within the framework of the Schreiner University Student Code of Conduct. It is therefore the obligation of every Greystone student to abide by the Schreiner Student Code.

The baseline Greystone Honor Code will serve as the foundation for the Greystone Character Development program. Essentially, the Greystone Honor Code stipulates that students will not lie, cheat or steal. During the first semester, students will evaluate the code and analyze the meaning of honor, integrity, trust, respect, responsibility and accountability. Through lectures, readings and group discussions of the various academy Honor Codes, Greystone students will develop their own rendition of an Honor Code. Upon completion of this project, students will have a stake in the maintenance of their Honor Code and signify such by signing the document. A student who has contributed to the development of a Code is more apt to understand the meaning and therefore more likely to incorporate it into their day-to-day life.

It is an essential that Greystone students develop an understanding of the expectations and ramifications of an Honor Code prior to their arrival at the academy. Internalizing the concepts of honor into their daily routine while at Greystone will help to ensure students will not knowingly violate the Honor Code after they arrive at the academy.

Campus Security

The Campus Security staff provides coverage 24 hours per day, seven days per week. Their services include policy and law enforcement, emergency assistance, parking and traffic regulation, building security and institutional safety policy enforcement.

Schreiner University Security and Safety Department believes in proactive law enforcement, which emphasizes the prevention of crime through community education and awareness. A successful crime prevention program depends on the active participation of all community members at all times.

Active crime prevention participation reduces the likelihood of victimization and increases criminal apprehension. The University Security Officers make presentations on topics such as sexual assault, personal safety, and alcohol awareness.

The phone number for the Security and Safety Department is (830) 792-7450.

A registered nurse is available in the Health and Wellness Center to treat minor injuries and illnesses and to respond to medical emergencies. Kerrville Area

Half way between heaven and earth is Kerrville Texas. It doesn't sound like much at first, but after a short while you will come to love its small world charm and big town amenities (Kerrville has its very own Wal-Mart, Home Depot and Cracker Barrel – need we say more?!). What attracts so many visitors to Kerrville is the Hill Country where city folk come to get away from the hustle and bustle of modern suburbia. In the spring, the rolling countryside is covered with endless varieties of colorful wild flowers and in the summer, when the cities are too hot for happy humans, Kerrville is a cool escape because of the refreshing summer breeze. The fall season seems to linger throughout the winter months – the temperature is never very cold for long and in the event of snow, a local holiday is declared. Somewhere between heaven and earth you'll find Kerrville and in the middle of it all, is Schreiner University.

Approximately sixty miles northwest of San Antonio, Kerrville is the home of Schreiner University. A resort community nestled among the hills of south central Texas and along the Guadalupe River; its nearly 25,000 citizens enjoy generally dry weather, cool nights, and sunny days. An easy walk from the center of town, the campus is on Texas Highway 27 south and is near Interstate 10.

Kerrville and the surrounding Hill Country provide a wide-open playground for outdoor fun—canoeing, kayaking, and water-skiing on the Guadalupe River, rock climbing, camping, fishing, hiking, biking, off-roading...you name it. You'll also find museums, nature centers, theatres, lakes, parks, ranches...it's all right here for you.

Kerrville is also a lively home for the arts, from its Point Theater to the Kerrville Folk Festival and the official sponsor of the Texas Arts & Crafts Fair.

When you want to get away, San Antonio and all of its world-class attractions—the River Walk, Sea World, Six Flags Fiesta Texas, shopping, and more—are less than an hour away. In addition, Austin, with its edgy culture and incredible music scene, is just 90 minutes away.
